Dear Mr. Paen:

I have reviewed several episodes of the program "AMERICA'S HEARTLAND" and I am confident that it meets the educational and informational needs of children 13 to 16 years of age with its program content.

The AMERICA'S HEARTLAND series is the powerful and interesting story of America's farming history. The episodes I viewed covered from Jamestown to the Louisiana Purchase to the Homestead Act of 1862. This series is not only informative but entertaining.

City students would enjoy the exposure to life on a farm. AMERICA'S HEARTLAND is certainly educational, entertaining and informative.

Sincerely,

Sister Mary Elizabeth Galt, B.V.M.

Dear Alex,

I have reviewed several episodes of the program "AMERICA'S HEARTLAND" and I am confident that it meets the educational and informational needs of children 13 to 16 years of age with its program content. Each episode in the series is a history lesson on America and its agricultural heritage. It offers teen viewers important information on various topics of life in rural parts of the United States. The programs explain how food is grown and used in different ways. For example, the process of making maple syrup or turning corn into fuel, are just a couple of examples.

In each episode, viewers visit ranches, farms or other locations and learn about different occupations and the rich history of "heartland" jobs and professions.

"AMERICA'S HEARTLAND" is an important addition to any broadcast stations' programming line-up because the series informs and educates young viewers, while broadening their understanding of the agricultural fabric of the United States.

Sincerely,
