Dear Alex,

I have reviewed several episodes of the program "GET WILD" and I am confident that it meets the educational and informational needs of children 13 to 16 years of age with its program content. The series explores all types of wild animals, while providing important information by experts from the San Diego Zoo. For example, in some episodes viewers are introduced to various "animal enrichment" programs where zoo staff seeks to duplicate a particular animal's habits that are prevalent and unique to that animal in the wild. Series also introduces teenage viewers to the living habits of animals from jaguars to orangutans to pandas as well as rare species such as Amur Leopards and Indian Gaurs. In one episode, viewers learn about the care of a hippo calf, while another episode explores the challenges of caring for cheetah chimps.

"GET WILD" is educational, informative and entertaining, while providing unique up-close televised visits of wild and exotic creatures and teaching viewers all about life in the animal kingdom.

Sincerely,

Dear Alex,

After reviewing episodes of the program "GET WILD at the San Diego Zoo," and I am confident that it meets the educational and informational needs of children 13 to 16 years of age with its program content. The series examines various animals at the zoo and how they are looked after by staff. The shows open up the world of rare and exotic species to teen viewers and explains how each animal greatly differs from other critters when it comes to living habits and care. For example, one episode explores the differences between striped hyenas and lemurs. Another episode focuses on endangered species and what is being done to insure the survival of each creature.

Episodes also offer explanations of the behavior of each animal while providing information on the animal's daily nutrition and other living habits.

I believe "GET WILD at the San Diego Zoo" is educational and informative and gives teen viewers insights into the world of wild and exotic creatures.

Sincerely,

Sister Mary Elizabeth Galt, B.V.M., Chancellor
