Dear Alex,

I have reviewed episodes of the program "WALKING WILD at the San Diego Zoo" and I am confident that it meets the educational and informational needs of children 13 to 16 years of age with its program content. The series focuses on wild animals at the San Diego Zoo and how the staff cares for these unique creatures. The series gives teen viewers up-close looks at everything from Tasmanian Devils to Galapagos Turtles to Gibbons. Each episode explores the lives of these wild critters and provides important information about how they survive in the world.

For example, one episode explores the lives of Servals and their habitat. Another episode looks at Grizzly Bears and why these huge animals are so well-known.

I believe "WALKING WILD at the San Diego Zoo" is an educational and informative series, offering teen viewers a special view of how wild and exotic creatures live in the animal kingdom.

Sincerely,

Sister Mary Elizabeth Galt, B.V.M.

Dear Alex,

I have reviewed several episodes of the program “WALKING WILD” and I am confident that it meets the educational and informational needs of children 13 to 16 years of age with its program content. The series explores all types of wild animals—from polar bears to ring-tailed lemurs--while providing important information by experts from the San Diego Zoo. Teenage viewers learn about each animals’ living habits and how zoo keepers care for them.

Each episode provides details on these wild critters, from the differences of each animal species to how these animals survive in the wild. For instance, one episode explores the world of pond turtles, while another episode follows the treatment of caring for a new born giraffe.

“WALKING WILD” is educational, informative and entertaining, while providing unique looks at wild and exotic creatures and teaching viewers all about life in the animal kingdom.

Sincerely,
